Five Demands On Greece Made By Germany, Italy

LIST AFFECTS TERRITORY AND ECONOMIC TIES

Told To Sever Trade Relations With Great Britain

Calre, Egypt, Oct. 18.—(P)—Germany and Italy have made five all-inclusive demands on Greece, calling for territorial concessions to both Italy and Bulgaria, the use of Greek air bases by the axis powers, and reorganization of the government to fit the axis pattern, Greek diplomatic circles reported tonight.

The demands were said also to stipulate that Greece break off trade relations with Great Britain.

Specifically, the five points were said to have been set down by the axis partner in this order:

Immediate severance of economic relations with the British.

The cession of a strip of territory adjacent to the Albanian border to Italy and the cession of a corridor to the Aegean Sea to Bulgaria.

The grant of the right to Italy to construct a road from Albania to Salonika, Greek port and so-called key to the South Balkans.

Greek Air Bases.

The use of certain Greek air bases by Germany and Italy.

The abdication of King George II of Greece, the resignation of Premier-Dictator John Metaxas and the formation of a pro-axis government.

The Greek diplomats said they learned of the alleged demands directly from Athens.

(Unofficial reports earlier in the week from Ankara said Turkey would go to the aid of Greece in the event of an axis thrust. The Turks already have declared "two million bayonets" will resist any German-Italian drive against the Near East.)

At Gibraltar
La Linea, Spain, Oct. 18.—(P)—Rumbling gunfire was heard several miles off Gibraltar at nightfall tonight, indicating a possible sea battle was in progress.

The explosion were heard distinctly here and at nearby Algeiras. The transport Reina Del Pacifico sailed today from Gibraltar with 500 persons, mostly women and children being removed under a new order by the civil governor for their immediate departure.

The 31,000-ton British battleship Barham, at Gibraltar for repairs, was damaged in the abortive British-supported expedition of General Charles De Gaulle's "free French" forces to enter Dakar, capital of French West Africa, authoritative informants said today.

The 26-year-old warship, which normally carries a crew of about 1,000 men, entered the basin at "The Rock" yesterday. She took a position near a cruiser also undergoing minor repairs for damage believed to have been sustained in a Mediterranean naval battle last Saturday when three Italian destroyers were sunk.

EXPENSIVE SOUP
Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—(P)—Theodore Carver, who objected strenuously last night to paying ten cents each for four flowing bowls of Philadelphia peppercorn soup, was convicted today of disturbing the peace and fined $10 or $25.00 a bowl.

Weather
For Jacksonville and vicinity: Partly cloudy and warmer today; fair, continued mild tomorrow.

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau, last night gave temperatures as high, 67; low, 32 and at 6 p. m. yesterday, 54.

Illinois and Indiana—Partly cloudy and warmer Saturday; Sunday fair, continued mild.

German Air Drive On London Broken Up By Guns' Barrage

City's 42nd Consecutive Night of Air Siege; Nazis Spread Out Over The Entire United Kingdom

London, Oct. 18.—(Saturday)—(P)—A roaring barrage of fire and shrapnel, thrown up by London's ground guns apparently broke up a strong German attack on the capital last night and early today and forced the Nazis to approach the city singly from different directions.

It was London's 42nd consecutive night of air siege.

The defense fire was so intense that it appeared the guns were being loaded and fired on the recoil.

Later, despite bad flying weather, the Germans spread out over all the United Kingdom.

Raiders In Wales
Eighteen high explosive bombs were dropped on one area of a west midlands industrial town; anti-aircraft guns drove off a plane attacking a northeast England town; and raiders were reported over towns in Wales, and southwest and northwest England.

A "stick" of oil bombs fell in one London area shortly after the night's raid started but residents of the neighborhood said they did nothing but cover the section with thick black grease.

Four wardens were wounded seriously when their post was hit.

London thanked the dirty flying weather for a day of comparative success from attack. Only one daylight alarm was sounded instead of the customary half-dozen or so. Dense clouds hid the raiders from the man in the street but the drone of Nazi motors could be heard distinctly.

September's terrific toll of dead was announced by the ministry of home security, which said 6,954 civilians were killed and 10,615 seriously wounded in air raids on the United Kingdom last month.

Casualties
Prime Minister Churchill announced in commons on Oct. 8 that British civilian casualties from the beginning of the war were 8,500 killed and 13,900 wounded.

Responding to cries for better shelters against the raids, the ministry of home security announced that 12,000 tons of steel have been released for construction of 600,000 air raid shelter bunks.

To meet an immediate need, it was announced the delivery of 1,000,000 wooden berths would start tomorrow, with a large proportion assigned to London's east end shelters.

Japan Strikes First Blow At China Highway

Bombers Hit Vital Terminus City Of Kunming

Hong Kong, Oct. 18.—(P)—Japan struck her first threatened blow against the re-opened Burma road today by bombing the strategic city of Kunming, Chinese terminus of the so-called "Road to Mandalay" over which are surging great motor caravans.

With the flood of arms bearing traffic along the Burma road rising hourly, Hongkong headquarters of the Japanese south China fleet announced that naval warplanes severely damaged military objectives in and around Kunming, capital of Yunnan province.

Munitions Plants
Roaring down on their targets thrupps in heavy clouds, the Japanese bombers were reported to have rained explosives on Chinese munitions factories in the suburbs of Kunming and military establishments within the city itself.

Japanese headquarters said the raiders met no opposition from the Chinese.

However, the Chinese were reported ready for the promised Japanese attacks on the vital road between British Burma and China. Anti-aircraft guns were said to be planted at many vantage points along the way.

Supplies started moving toward China in the early darkness today after a three-months suspension of traffic in a vain effort by the British to appease Japan.

Lone Robber Gets $10,000 From Bank

Chicago, Oct. 18.—(P)—A lone robber obtained $10,000 today at the South Chicago Savings bank by threatened to blow up the place.

A teller, Harold Broberg, reported to police that the man approached, carrying a small vial, handed him a note which read "there's enough here to blow up the entire building" and demanded money.

Broberg said he scooped up nearby cash and handed it over. The holdup man then ran and eluded pursuit.

POPE PIUS

REICH INVASION ARMY BLASTED IN SEPTEMBER

Few Details Given; Royal Navy Chases German Vessels

London, Oct. 18.—(P)—The British announced today that their Royal Air Force had blown a German invasion army out of their ships more than a month ago, and disclosed officially that German warships now have been engaged in the eastern Atlantic by the British fleet and air force.

Only the most meager details of the story of an abortive attempt to land a sea-borne army on these shores last September 16 were given out by authoritative sources, but they were borne out by the air ministry's own news service and by piecemeal communications and reports which have passed the censorship on that date and since.

The kernel of the story is that the British bombers, aided by a providential gale like that which scattered the Spanish Armada, attacked German troopships on the French "invasion coast" just after they had been jammed from beam to beam with German troops, "and made their departure impossible by the ferocity of their attack."

Invasion Cancelled

To this, the air ministry news service contributed a report that the German troops, or those which survived, then were removed from the ships and the invasion plans cancelled.

The Atlantic engagement between the British home fleet and a squadron of four German destroyers occurred yesterday, the admiralty announced.

"The enemy retired precipitately," a communiqué said, after a British cruiser opened up its guns at long range some 100 miles southwest of Land's End, the southwestern tip of Britain.

At dusk, the admiralty said, the Germans fled in Brest, chased and attacked by British bombers. One bomb, it was stated, fell "close" to the bow of one of the German vessels.

German bombers twice attacked the British ships during the chase, but none was hit, the admiralty insisted.

Leopold Restored To Place of Honor

New York, Oct. 18.—(P)—In ceremonies marking the restoration of the marble bust of King Leopold III to its place of honor in the World's Fair Belgian pavilion tonight, Franz Van Cauwelaert, former minister of state, called on all free Belgians to renew their loyalty to their king, and to pledge their support and Belgian colonial resources to the British cause.

It was his explanation of the king's conduct in the war that led Count Robert Van Der Straeten-Ponthoz, Belgian ambassador to the U. S., to order the replacement of King Leopold's bust to its pedestal.

The sculptured likeness of the king, hauled down after Belgium capitulated in May, had lain in storage since.

THE GERMAN VOICE
Anti-Nazi Station Is Heard Once Again

New York, Oct. 18.—(P)—The "German Freedom Station" which broadcasts in the German language and claims to be operating somewhere in the Reich, was heard here tonight for the first time in six months in a broadcast in which the announcer said:

"Even the most peaceful and most calm of us might not stand it much longer."

The broadcast, heard by CBS, stated "Germany speaking—" and went on to say this Oct. 18 was the day Reichsmarschall Hermann Wilhelm Goering's four-year plan was supposed to have been fulfilled.

"But the people are not laughing," the announcer said. "There is nothing to laugh about. The only people who won't cry are the rascals who are now in power."

Willkies Guests Here

Over 200 Killed In Spanish Provinces By Flood Waters

Waters in Some Places Reach Balconies of Homes; Bridges Are Swept Away; Many Persons Are Missing

Barcelona, Spain, Oct. 18.—(P)—More than 200 persons were reported by telephone company officials to have been drowned today in flash floods in Barcelona and Gerona provinces of Spain.

The streets of the city of Gerona were flooded by the overflowing river Ter, the waters in some places reaching balconies of homes.

Gerona is 53 miles northeast of Barcelona.

The public services, gas and water systems were halted by the floods and telephone communication with towns in the province was cut.

Bridges were swept away.

Eighteen Drowned
Eighteen persons were reported drowned at Gerona when one bridge went out.

The town of Torello, with 4,000 inhabitants, was hard hit. More than twenty bodies had been recovered there tonight. Many more were missing.

The swift rise of the Ter river and its tributaries, as a result of three days of continuous rain, isolated many towns and villages.

At the town of Manilla, a girl 'phone operator stayed at her board until the waters reached to her neck; then asked for help and was rescued.

WPA OFFICIALS DENY WORKERS ARE 'COACHED'

Conspiracy Charge Is Answered; Free To Vote, Is Claim

Washington, Oct. 18.—(P)—A charge that WPA officials were "conspiring" to "deliver" the relief vote for President Roosevelt was made before the senate campaign investigating committee today, and was followed by a WPA announcement that all its workers would be reminded that they were free to vote as they pleased.

The conspiracy charge came from three New York union leaders, Richard N. McKibben, representing the Workers Alliance; William Lever, president of the WPA Teachers union of New York City (AFL), and Daniel Koerner, of the United American Artists Union (CIO).

Vast Spy Armies
McKibben testified that "Democratic wardheelers, vast armies of investigators and spies, and large sections of the administrative apparatus of WPA have been enlisted to intimidate Republicans, former Roosevelt supporters and voters for the various minority parties into supporting Roosevelt."

Koerner offered similar testimony, and Lever declared that there had been "an unparalleled campaign of intimidation, espionage and persecution" of WPA workers by a "special WPA police force known as 'the guard'."

Without making any reference to the senate hearings, Howard O. Hunter, acting WPA commissioner, announced that a letter was being sent to each WPA worker advising that "voting is your own business."

GUERNSEY JUDGING
Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 18.—(P)—J. H. McDonald of McDonald Farms, Cortland, N. Y., won most of the awards today in judging of Guernsey classes at the National Dairy Show near its close.

Other Guernsey winners included: Production Get-of-Stre, four cows—St. James Farm, Naperville, Ill.

Thousands Hear GOP Presidential Candidate Here

America today is facing one of the great testing periods in her history, and the problem in the world today is whether the free way of life can continue to exist, declared Wendell L. Willkie, Republican candidate for president of the United States, in a brief address here before a vast cheering throng last night. "There is nothing in all this world so precious, or dear, or valuable, or wonderful as this free way of life," he continued, "and to this cause to preserve that is the cause to which I have dedicated myself."

Mr. Willkie paid tribute to the ability of his running mate, Senator McNary, candidate for vice-president, and declared that "there is no man in America who will do more to protect the farmers in America, to receive their just share of the national income, or anyone to fight harder to preserve the social gains of labor than I will."

Speaking at the Wabash railway station, without a prepared text Willkie told the huge crowd that France, Norway and Belgium fell because of "weakness within"—they fell because they forgot how to keep expanding and growing. The obvious symptoms of such weakness from within are the symptoms that are present in America today, said Mr. Willkie. "What I am trying to do is to arouse the American people."

Train Late
The 15 car special train reached Jacksonville at 8:50 o'clock last night, 40 minutes behind schedule, due to frequent reductions of speed through towns where crowds lined the right of way. As the headlight of the locomotive appeared in the distance, the huge crowd, variously estimated at from seven to 10,000 persons, set up a cheer which rose in intensity as the train came closer. By the time it pulled to a stop, the crowd was whooping "If up and handkerchiefs and banners were waving."

On the rear platform when the train arrived were Dwight Green, candidate for governor; C. Wayland Brooks, candidate for U. S. Senator; Warren Wright, candidate for state treasurer; and Hardin Hanks of Beardstown, candidate for congress from the 20th district.

Hanks stepped to the microphone of the public address system and introduced Green, who presented Warren Wright. Mrs. Willkie, a large white bouquet in her hands, was introduced and waved to the crowd. She was (Continued on Page Six)

On the basis of official reports from 17 states and the District of Columbia, draft headquarters said Wednesday's registration of men in those areas exceeded census bureau estimates by more than 1 1/3 percent which, if maintained throughout the nation, would add approximately 215,000 more men to the group between the ages of 21 and 36 than was originally expected. The original estimate was 16,400,000.

Among the first 17 states for which service system reported these total figures were announced, the selective registrations and the previous estimates: Illinois, 1,068,316 and 1,048,000; Ohio, 840,707 and 839,000; Wisconsin, 365,557 and 367,000.

Opposes Federal Regulation of Oil

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Oct. 18.—(P)—Harry B. Hershey, Democratic nominee for governor, said tonight he was "unalterably opposed to federal regulation of the state's booming oil industry, but conceded 'orderly development is necessary.'"

Hershey declared in a prepared campaign speech that oil regulation is primarily a state problem and promised, if he is elected governor, to "approve only such measures as will be equitable and just."

"Obviously, none of us wants to see the oil resources of Illinois wasted or dissipated in any manner which would react against the best interests of our citizens and curtail the output of this important product," Hershey said.

"Orderly development is necessary to this young industry. I believe that such development is the wish of all who are interested in it. If government intervention is deemed necessary, action should be taken only after a full inquiry, and after public hearings at which all interested parties may be heard."

Defenses Repaired
When Hitler first came to power, he said, the American people were "concerned but unafraid," and when "his bloody aggressions" developed, the people began to repair their defenses.

"Then," he continued, "was the opportunity for a few men in this country to frighten our people, and to cause a hysteria presented to us as a crisis such as we have never seen before."

"And then, too, came another crisis very different—the crisis of a third term question presented to the incumbent again to be a candidate, and perhaps again to be elected."

An effort was made, he went on, to "whip up war hysteria," with the people "led to believe that St. Louis and Omaha were about to be bombed." Simultaneously, "mysterious whisperings were heard about changing horses in mid stream," he said, "and then the indispensable man was born."

Mr. Roosevelt "maintained a discreet silence" until the Democratic convention, Johnson continued, in the knowledge that his attitude and tactics could "mean but one thing. X x x for the first time in the history of our nation we have a third term presidential candidate."

The President Again Ignores Congress

It came to light in Washington Tuesday that President Roosevelt had allocated $100,000 for bonuses preparatory to begin construction work on the St. Lawrence river power dam.

This action was taken two weeks ago without knowledge of congress, although the project in similar form had been twice denied approval of the senate, once when Herbert Hoover was President and the second time in 1934 under President Roosevelt.

Allocation of this money was made from appropriations by congress for defense without specific purposes.

It is recalled that President Roosevelt some weeks ago announced conclusion of a mutual defense alliance between the United States and Canada, and this allotment of funds was supposed to be in furtherance of that treaty, which was also made without formal assent of the senate. When questioned in his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt said his allocation of preliminary funds was merely "cutting red tape."

In two historic instances where Mr. Roosevelt previously allocated large sums (from relief funds) for projects which were near to his heart, congress afterward repudiated his action and stopped work on these projects. One was the Florida ship canal and the other the Passamaquoddy bay tide-water power scheme. Both these now stand skeletons of grandiose enterprises on which millions of tax money have been spent.

Since many strange things are being done under the guise of "national defense," perhaps the senate will allow this exercise of individual power by the President go without obstruction. But the incident illustrates one characteristic of the President which has so many times brought critical reaction of congress and the public, and creates fear of his unpredictable policies.

Meter and Mettle

At a recent poetry meeting in London the Poet Laureate, John Masefield, was mildly chidden, like his predecessor Bridges twenty-five years ago, for not having written more poetry inspired by the war. The obligation to produce topical verse is one that Poets Laureate nowadays do not take very seriously, so that Mr. Masefield, who has lately been busy with a novel about the last ages of the Roman Empire, is not likely to be much disturbed by his friendly critics.

Yet the suggestion that some epics of the present conflict, which has the momentum of a struggle between right and wrong, might become the basis of great verse, is worth consideration.

The events in British history that have inspired the most memorable poetry are: the defeat of the Armada; the exploit of Grenville's ship "Revenge," which, with five others, fought fifty-three Spanish galleons off the Azores; the charge of the Light Brigade; and the long battle with Napoleon. Tennyson, Hardy and Macaulay have written more than finely about these things, all of which have one thing in common. They were all foreign hopes, gallant and desperate struggles against odds, the fights of men who knew that they had their backs to the wall, and justice at their side.

It is this element of courage in a disastrous situation that English poets find to their liking; and the embarkation from Dunkirk, so apparently hopeless and yet so triumphantly successful, manifests it in full measure. The day may yet come when Dunkirk is as memorable in literature as in history.

Dealers Have Communistic Doctrines

Stirring Class Hatred Step Toward Socialism

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, D. C.—Every now and then the statement is made that Communists occupy important positions in the Roosevelt administration. What is meant, of course, is that many New Dealers, while not actually members of the Communist party, have become staunch advocates of Communistic ideas.

The latest evidence of this is in an official report published at this "non-political" season of the year with the doubtless disinterested purpose of informing the American people about the control of various American enterprises.

The New Dealers have lost few opportunities to stir up class envy and class hatred by calling attention to the wealth of particular individuals.

In this instance, the "nonpolitical" securities and exchange commission calls attention to the fact that Henry Ford and his family constitute the best example of one family control of an American business because that family controls stock valued at about 625 million dollars.

Self Made
In the first place, Henry Ford didn't do any Wall Street manipulating of stock issues to get his wealth and, in the second place, he didn't go to the political powers that be in Washington to borrow the money to get a subsidy or special privilege so he could build up his own company. He committed the unpardonable crime of having an idea—an original idea. He invented the low priced automobile in America.

He borrowed money from a few friends and then made the mistake of marketing his invention at a price low enough so that millions of Americans could enjoy the highways and the transportation facilities which the early flivver and the later models gave them.

Thus Henry Ford made a success which, according to Communist philosophy, is a big mistake. No individual should be allowed to accumulate wealth, the Russian doctrine says, even if he has the brains to do it and the honesty to accomplish it without stepping on anybody else's preserves.

Can't Cash It
Henry Ford and his family can't eat 625 million dollars nor can they spend it. As a matter of fact very little of these assets are convertible into cash at once because they are in the form of plant and machinery and real estate and in organization which can function only as long as management brains enable it to compete with the other large automobile companies. If Henry Ford had taken all his stock and sold it for cash in the market and quit his business with a fortune of 625 million dollars and put it into tax exempt securities he would never have gotten his name in the papers in this campaign as a target for the class conscious New Dealers in Washington.

"PARDON ME, DEAR"

Observe Family Night at Meeting

Mary and Martha Circle of Chapin Meets; Other News Notes

Chapin, Oct. 17.—Family night was observed by the Mary and Martha Circle of the St. Paul's Lutheran church Tuesday evening at the church with a good attendance. A wieners roast was enjoyed after which Five Hundred was played. The committee in charge was Miss Flora Nienhuesser, Mrs. Herbert Hallberg, Mrs. Marvin Ohmen, Mrs. William Nienhuesser and Miss Ada Schumacher.

News Notes
Mrs. H. C. Ommen of Peoria spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Unken.

Miss Isabelle Fox of Virden spent the week-end at her home here. Forington. He might have been welcomed instead into the groups of contributors to New Deal campaigns whose wealth never seems to be objectionable when it comes to collecting campaign funds or distributing ambassadorships after election.

But instead, he has preferred, though more than 70 years of age, to keep his business going and to maintain high wages and levels—he was the first to boost the workers' pay in the auto industry a couple decades ago.

This, it seems, is all wrong now or else the statistical wizards of the securities and exchange commission were merely indulging in a harmless orgy of figures.

Fomented Hatred
The work on such compilations, originated no doubt long before the campaign started but the effect of the publicity now is to create class hatreds and class prejudices.

No governor of any state has as yet said that Dictator Stalin would rejoice if the New Deal were continued in power, but nobody has to say it—this fact is well known, namely that the Roosevelt administration by its fomenting of class hatred is doing exactly what the Communists want done in America to bring about discord and dissension so that the masses may be incited to feel that all wealth and property is illegitimately acquired.

Private property should, of course, be managed by its owners as a trust. Society has enacted laws demanding that competitors shall not injure each other by unfair means or deprive anybody of free opportunity. Henry Ford has never had a monopoly in the low priced auto field. First there came Chevrolet and Plymouth and later Willys-Overland and now Nash. Billions of dollars of demand for steel and rubber, for machine tools, parts and accessories to say nothing of road building and collateral activities have been created and so have billions of dollars of jobs—all as a consequence of Henry Ford's ingenuity.

Technique
His 625 million dollars of stock is a tiny fraction of the total payrolls he has made possible for American workers in the last 20 years. And, he a matter of fact, Henry Ford's genius really stimulated the building of the entire mechanized industrial system of mass production without which we would not be able to organize today the biggest defense program in the nation's history.

Such a man is being smeared by the New Deal commissions and boards which, of course, is the well known technique of those who seek first to discredit and ultimately to take over private enterprise so that the masses, here as in Russia, will accept state socialism and government ownership and control of private property.

81st Birthday Of A. & P. Food Stores Is Being Observed

"Pioneers for Budgeteers" Is Anniversary Theme Throughout Nation

How mass merchandising methods have widened the American diet by transforming luxury foods into inexpensive staples, is dramatized nationally this month by observance of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company's 81st anniversary.

The anniversary theme, "Pioneers for budgeteers—since 1865," was announced Friday by H. W. Carver, A. & P. executive. "We take our greatest pride in the fact that our constant striving for efficiency and lower retail prices has made it possible for millions of American families to enjoy beverages, vegetables, fruits, meats, poultry, fish and dairy products that were once considered luxuries," he said.

"The history of our company is a record of a constantly wider variety of quality foods being offered to a greater number of consumers," Mr. Carver said. "As a matter of fact, when George Huntington Hartford founded the A. & P. in 1865 with the first store in New York, his first act was to take ten out of the luxury class and make it available to budgeteers in modest circumstances. At that time tea was selling for $1.00 a pound due to the fact that the purchasing agent in China, importer, speculator, wholesale tea dealer and wholesale grocer were all realizing their profit on every shipment of tea. By purchasing tea direct from China and eliminating in-between costs, Mr. Hartford succeeded in reducing the retail price to 30c a pound."

Mr. Carver said that the public response to this new method of merchandising resulted in the opening of new stores and the introduction of additional foodstuffs. The new mass merchandising principles were applied to coffee and they were so effective that the A. & P. today operates its own plantations in Brazil, and imports, roasts and distributes one out of every seven pounds of coffee used by American consumers.

"In the next three decades our company gradually expanded their line from coffee, tea and spices to include other groceries, always with a view to bringing more foods to more consumers," Mr. Carver said. "By 1884 we were distributing sugar. By 1890 baking powder, butter and extracts had been added to our stock. Year by year we brought a constantly widening variety of foodstuffs to the American public."

"Probably our greatest contribution to a healthful American diet was the part we played in making fresh fruits and vegetables available the year round. It is not many years since the average home was limited to canned and dried fruits and vegetables during the fall and winter months. The quantity of fresh fruits and vegetables produced throughout the country now compared with that produced prior to our coming into this field shows a tremendous increase, particularly in the southern states whose produce is consumed during the fall and winter seasons."

"The A. & P. in many instances, was the first to bring such produce to northern markets in carlots during the winter months. Further, our promotional activities along these lines have encouraged consumers to use fresh fruits and vegetables on a year-round basis and have benefited both farmers and consumers."

Recalling the days when an orange was seldom seen during winter months "except in the toe of a Christmas stocking," Mr. Carver said that mass merchandising has been particularly effective in increasing consumption of citrus fruits. In the past 20 years consumption of oranges has more than doubled, he said.

Mr. Carver said that the benefits derived by both producers and consumers from mass merchandising were particularly evident with regard to poultry, which only in recent years has gone beyond its traditional role of a "holiday dinner." He pointed out that when the A. & P. first started selling poultry, ducks were purchased by comparatively few families, but as a result of the company's cooperation with the Long Island Duck Producers, there is today an outstanding demand for this item. The company was the first to bring country fresh killed chickens to consumers in many markets and the result of this activity has not only been increased consumption of poultry and better returns to growers, but increased demand on the part of consumers for fresh killed fowl, he said.

According to army experts the smaller fighting planes cost about $5000 apiece.

Three Recipes For Link Sausage, Good For Any Day's Meal

Pigs in Blanket, Macaroni Loaf, or Sausage Supreme Today's Recipes

By Emily Conklin

Taste-tempters which are also satisfying and nutritious are little sausage links, so popular on the breakfast menu and just as suitable fare for any other meal of the day. As breakfast fare, their appetizing flavor is important. Their tantalizing aroma can persuade even a sleepy-head to choose breakfast instead of those extra forty winks. They are a fine source of energy for the day's work and play.

Little sausage links are easy to prepare, another reason they are popular as breakfast meat. They contain fresh pork and therefore should be thoroughly cooked.

Easily Cooked

One of the easiest and best ways of cooking them is to place the links in a cold frying-pan, add two tablespoons of water for each pound of sausage, cover the pan closely and simmer until they are well done. Then remove the cover and brown the links, turning them as needed.

Another way is to brown the links first. Place them in a heated heavy frying-pan, and when they are evenly browned, add a little water, cover the pan and simmer until they are done.

Good For Breakfast, Lunch or Dinner

Little link sausage is delicious served at any meal of the day and it is especially tempting as breakfast fare. Here it is served with pineapple rings, which are browned in the sausage fat. Cloverleaf rolls and grape jelly are also on the menu of this breakfast.

Pigs in Blankets

12 pork sausage links
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup lard

Sift flour, measure and resift twice with baking powder and salt. Add lard and cut in with pastry blender or 2 knives. Add milk and stir just until the dough stiffens. Turn out onto floured board, knead 3 or 4 times and roll out 1 inch thick. Cut the dough in 6 rectangular pieces. Have the sausage links partially cooked and drained. Roll up 2 or 3 sausage links in each piece of dough and bake in a hot oven (425° F.) for 10 minutes or until the crust is golden brown. Serve with mustard or horseradish sauce.

Melt cheese in the white sauce, add slightly beaten eggs and macaroni. Season. Brown the sausage links and place them in a border around the inside of a loaf pan. Pour macaroni mixture inside the sausage border and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) until the loaf is set and the sausage done, about 40 minutes.

Here is another delicious sausage dish for an easily prepared meal.

Sausage Supreme

3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
13 teaspoons salt

"Take it away, mister - it's the best yet!"

OUT in the vast Buick plants you'll find men who were building motorcars when many of us were still looking forward to our first long pants.

So when these veterans talk to you about 1941 models, you're listening to Old Man Experience, seasoned by years-long, backstage in-the-know.

And straight from the shoulder, without any ifs, ands, butts or maybes, these old-timers will tell you that the Buicks now coming off the assembly lines top anything produced here since the first "one-lunger" chugged its way down the street.

It isn't only that they're handsomer carriages. Or that they're bigger, roomier, steadier with road-hugging weight and poise.

It isn't just that the new FIREBALL* engines, micropoise-balanced to vibrationless ease, carry Buick's exclusive Dynaflex principle to new heights of agile binnacle while actually getting 10% to 15% more miles per gallon.

It isn't simply that these great eager cars ride easier, handle more nimbly, surround you with travel-luxury that even surpasses the oft-praised comforts of home.

It's even more in the brawn and inbuilt-character and fine-drawn precision—in all the things you don't see about a Buick no less than in the things you can lay eye on.

Now this modelwise fellow sums it all up.

He says simply, "the best yet" is waiting for you.

He means we have never before built automobiles so good as these we offer you now.

Michigan-Illinois Battle Holds Spot On Saturday Card

Purdue Only Western Conference Team With Date This Week-End

Chicago, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The Western Conference might as well dedicate tomorrow to "vengeance on the gridiron" and let it go at that.

That's the objective of Michigan and Tom Harmon Saturday when they take on Illinois, the team that startled them and the football world with a 16-7 conquest last year.

Minnesota has the same aim in its conference debut at Ohio State. The Buckeyes won last year 23 to 20.

The Indiana and "Hurlin" Hal Hursh would like to square matters for that 32-20 loss to Iowa last year.

Each could succeed and no one would be particularly surprised. In two instances the decision could go to last year's winners—Ohio State and Iowa—without too much repercussion.

But not so at Michigan, where "Hot Foot" Harmon, well released after skirmishes with California, Michigan State and Harvard, is ready to apply the heat to the game that wrecked the Wolverine title chances last year in a game voted the upset of the season.

Too, it will be something of a personal revenge professional Harmon.

will attempt to lead tomorrow, for last year the Illinois stopped him cold after the publicity makers had begun putting him on a level with "Red" Grange, No. 1 hero of the Illinois.

It has been a week of grim preparation for the Wolverines, who figure that the strengthened Illinois this year have more reason to expect a victory than they did last year.

In tomorrow's other conference game a Northwestern team that shot up among the ranking title contenders by his victory over Ohio State opponents Wisconsin. The Badgers have been a stubborn foe for the Wildcats in recent years, and in the under dog role might assert themselves as they did two years ago. After all, it is vengeance week.

Purdue is the only conference team with an open date.

FAN BREEZES

By Ernest Savage

We have it from one of the boys who has seen a lot of prep football teams in action this year that there are a couple as good as Beardstown.

He picks Lanphier to beat them for the Central Conference championship, and claims Bend and Normandy of St. Louis have teams on a par with the Riverton Tigers.

However, Beardstown has begun hallyhooning Duffelmeier for the All-State high school team, and he'll probably make it. Beardstown fans are even stronger for Duffelmeier as a basketball player than as a football player.

Western Teacher's college yearlings had almost old home week when they came over to Jacksonville to play the I.C. freshmen. Two former Jacksonville boys were in the starting line-up for the Leatherneck Freshmen. Gerald Vasconcellos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Vasconcellos, and John "Bud" Johnson, son of John Johnson were in the line-up at the start, and Johnson finished the game.

Vasconcellos, however, left the game a few minutes before the end of the first half. He weighs about 140 pounds and had been battling his head and shoulders off against Pettit, the Blue-boy weighing 285 pound tackle. Gerald was nothing more than exhausted trying to push that hulk around. In fact, players changed quite frequently on Pettit's side of the line, not because of injuries, but because the opposition just got tired.

There were a few other Central Illinois lads on the Western team. Baird, a former Rushville guard, was captain of the Macomb team which was coached by one of the Baujan boys, who hails from Beardstown.

Frank Shirvis, who played some football as a freshman for Illinois College, and whose brother, Dick, is one of the co-captains of this year's I.C. team, is now playing end for Beloit college. Frank turned in a fine game at end when Beloit won from Cornell, Iowa, 14-0 last week.

And now a Purdue sports writer questions whether Charley Maag, who Taylorville, Oct. 18.—(Special to Journal)—Taylorville High took the measure of the Jacksonville School for the Deaf Tigers in a football game here tonight, winning 13 to 0.

The first touchdown of the game, played under lights on the high school field, came soon after Taylorville's co-captain, Verne Freidrich, recovered the ball when an I. S. D. back fumbled a punt on the visitors' 20-yard line. The other Taylorville co-captain, Ray Bianchi, raced through right tackle 20 yards on the next play for the score. A place-kick conversion was made by quarterback Charles Hall.

The second touchdown came late in the third period when Taylorville backed the Tigers steadily down the field to the I. S. D. 30. Hall then flipped a 20-yard pass to Wilson, Taylorville left end, who was downed on the 9-yard line. Full-back Bianchi drove three more yards through the line, and Freidrich covered the remaining six yards on an end run. Hall's attempt at conversion failed.

Parsons Springs 7-2 Upset Victory Over Blueboys Last Night

Fairfield, Iowa, Oct. 18.—(Special to Journal)—Illinois College's Blueboys gave their best gridiron performance of the year in a game with Parsons College tonight but relaxed long enough in the fourth quarter to let the Wildcats score a touchdown and win, 7 to 2.

After a closely contested first period the Blueboys grabbed a 2 to 0 lead in the second quarter when Harrell, Parsons fullback, backed up to his goal by the Blueboy attack, was downed in the end zone on a bad pass from center.

The Wildcats came back strong after the half and in successive surges shoved the ball down the field to the 4-yard line. Harrell, Parsons fullback, took the ball around end for the touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter. Pennant converted, with Bradford holding the ball.

The Blueboys staged a rally immediately after the Parsons scoring. They drove to the Wildcats 8-yard marker but lost possession on downs.

The Blueboys gained a total of nine first downs, compared with 5 for Parsons.

As for crowds, the biggest of the day, 72,000, is expected in the Ohio State stadium to see the Buckeyes, western conference defending champions, attempt to stand off Minnesota.

Yale's higher-ups, incidentally, no doubt will be shocked to find that, in their disregard of their de-emphasis credo, some 45,000 customers are going to file into the Yale bowl to see the Bulldogs play Dartmouth.

To detour around such crass commercialism, however, and lay the predictions on the line, here goes (home team first, probable attendance in parentheses):

Alabama-Tennessee (25,000)—The Vols' defense appears as stout as ever, the offense to be powerful despite the loss of Catoe. Tennessee.

Cornell-Syracuse (20,000)—Bill Orange recovered nicely last week, but has injury trouble now. Cornell would be the choice even if Syracuse were at full strength. Cornell.

Ohio State-Minnesota (72,000)—The Gophers are well-rested and well-primed. Despite an apparent wealth of material, Ohio State has had one "disputed" close call, one defeat, Minnesota.

Test Aggies
Texas A. and M.-Texas Christian (15,000)—The Aggies' first conference test also should be their first conference triumph.

Michigan-Illinois (40,000)—23-point-a-game Harmon may not maintain that average forever, but a vote for Michigan.

Washington State-Stanford (22,000)—The word from the west coast is that Stanford's one pointer over San Clara really was sum'p'n. Strictly on hearsay, Stanford.

Penn-Princeton (50,000)—biggest eastern game, from an attendance standpoint, and one that should prove whether the Red and Blue has or hasn't got it. Believing it has, Penn.

Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech (35,000)—They say the Irish, like a new car, have been operating under the red strain of a "governor." They probably won't have to open the throttle wide here, Notre Dame.

Yale-Dartmouth (45,000)—despite de-emphasis and that Penn drubbing, Yale—with Anderson and Semson ready to go again.

Pitt-Fordham (50,000)—Fordham, though its weak on reserves.

Washington-Oregon State (35,000)—manpower is plentiful at State. There was a pre-season boom for Washington Out of a hat, Washington.

Georgia Tech-Vanderbilt (25,000)—the Vandy defense did fine against Kentucky. The engineers have one of the best little backs in the business in Johnny Bosch. Taking the home team—Georgia Tech.

Columbia-Georgia (20,000)—Columbia, in a close one.

Harvard-Army (30,000)—Harvard, the same way.

Tulane-Rice (25,000)—Rice to hand Tulane another.

Wisconsin-Northwestern (30,000)—looks like all Northwestern.

Southern California-Oregon (45,000)—Southern Cal.

California-U. C. L. A. (30,000)—U. C. L. A.

Indiana-Iowa (20,000)—Iowa to keep going.

Colgate-Duke (15,000)—Duke.

Kansas-Nebraska (13,000)—Nebraska looks too good.

Here 'n' there elsewhere:
East-Navy over Drake handily.
Mid-west—Oklahoma over Kansas state, Missouri over Iowa State.

Greenfield Eleven Takes Jerseyville
Greenfield, Oct. 18.—A final quarter touchdown by Cook brought a 7-0 victory to Greenfield in a football game tonight over Jerseyville. The extra point was kicked by Dale Cole. The score came on a steady forty-yard drive through Jerseyville territory. The game was filled with Jerseyville fumbles.

MAJOR UPSET
Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—(AP)—An underdog Temple University eleven, inspired by Jimmy Powers' 105 yard return of the opening kickoff for a touchdown, scored one of the major upsets of the football season tonight by beating Michigan State 21 to 19, in a see-saw battle before 15,000.

IT'S NOT COSTLY to have the correct amount of glareless light wherever you need it. Most of your fixtures can probably be modernized at surprisingly slight cost with inexpensive adaptor units. Genuine Mazda bulbs have never been priced so low; they're long-lived, too. And one or two I. E. S. approved lamps—reasonably priced—can do wonders in brightening up your family's favorite reading and studying spots.

Check up on your home lighting soon, before the longer, darker nights of winter set in. Fill empty sockets with right-size Mazda bulbs; keep a supply on hand. Put a handy, low-priced pin-it-up lamp in that dark, dangerous corner in the hall. Light condition now for brighter, happier evenings to come.

Thousands Hear GOP Presidential Candidate Here

Joined by Mr. Willkie who was then presented by Green and began his ten minute address.
The crowd began gathering two hours before the train was scheduled to arrive and continued to grow until the arrival of the train. The municipal band took up headquarters on the platform and played a number of patriotic selections. The MacMurray College Willkie club marched to the railroad station carrying a large banner, and numerous other banners were to be seen waving over the crowd.

Automobiles clogged all streets for several blocks in all directions of the station. Traffic was congested for an hour before the train arrived, and for half an hour after it departed.
The MacMurray Willkie club presented Mrs. Willkie with a bouquet of flowers, Miss June Weible making the presentation on the rear platform of the train. Mrs. Willkie very graciously thanked the club for the floral tokens and waved as the crowd cheered.

The crowd that greeted Mr. Willkie was the largest that has gathered here in years. The rear of the train was halted just west of the Wabash station. As the special came to a halt there was a surge forward toward the rear platform of the Willkie coach. Many persons had gathered in front of the station east and even beyond that. So large was the crowd that many persons could not see the candidate.

At Hannibal
Hannibal, Mo., Oct. 18.—(P)—Willkie told a trainload audience today at Hannibal, Mo., Mark Twain's birthplace:

Neither Candidate Great
Springfield, Oct. 18.—(P)—Willkie told his audience here tonight that Lincoln was "the symbol of the hope and the purpose of America."

"Within the last year and a half," Willkie declared, "the president of the United States has made speeches in which he has inferentially described himself as Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt."

Willkie said "neither Mr. Roosevelt nor myself are great men. We are but the result of accidental circumstances that have brought us to the fore representing different causes. Neither of us has demonstrated any quality of greatness such as distinguished Washington and Lincoln."

After his address here tonight, Wendell L. Willkie visited the Abraham Lincoln Shrine and placed a wreath of roses and chrysanthemums on the tomb of the martyred president.

Accompanied by Mrs. Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee was shown through the stone memorial by an escort of American legionnaires.

It was after 10 p. m. when Willkie drove to the shrine. A pale moon shone through a cloudy sky.

With Willkie In Twentieth District

By Staff Correspondent
Enroute from Hannibal, Mo., On Willkie Special Train, October 18—A tremendous crowd greeted Wendell Willkie as he arrived in Hannibal this afternoon. Although the train was nearly an hour late the crowd that awaited at the railroad station seemed to grow as the time lengthened, and cheers arose from the thousands of throats of the many persons who awaited the arrival of the Republican presidential nominee.

Mr. Willkie, seemingly hoarse and tired from his strenuous trip made a passionate appeal to the crowd that numbered all kinds of citizens from the more humble to the seemingly more prosperous. His talk was brief but scheduled due to his lateness of arrival—in fact so hurried was his address that he added an appeal after he had concluded his talk, for the congressional candidate from the Hannibal congressional district. Willkie apparently wants to have the support of a Republican congress when he is elected.

Scurry For Seats
There was a scurry for seats on the Willkie train when it stopped a number of the passengers preferring to board the train and listen to the presidential nominee on the train over a loud speaking system rather than to join the crowd at the Hannibal station and risk losing their seats.

On the train there was the usual greetings of friends as they met each other and there was also considerable consultation between a large delegation from Springfield with those in charge of the Willkie train as to arrangements for the night meeting in the Capitol City.

It was an enthusiastic crowd of Republican leaders and others who boarded the Willkie special bound for Jacksonville as the next stop. By way of diversion from our relation of the events that have been taking place, the Willkie train stopped at a number of persons at the Wabash station reading this morning's Willkie edition of the Jacksonville Journal. No, they were not subscribers but the papers were made available to them.

Mrs. Willkie Gets Paper
And in connection with this paper reading we note on the train such distinguished Republicans as Wayland Brooks, Dwight Green, Hugh Cross and Warren Wright perusing the Jacksonville Journal. Said Brooks "It is nice to have newspapers say nice things about nice people."

Mrs. Willkie was handed one of the Jacksonville Journals, the Journal representative remarking, "Mrs. Willkie, this is the first time an editorial ever appeared on the first page of the Jacksonville Journal in behalf of any candidate. She asked, 'May I have one for Wendell?'" and was given five copies of the paper.

In addition to representatives of the Jacksonville Journal on the train we note Mrs. Richard Yates Rowe, wife of the state organization chairman for the G. O. P., Mrs. Zola Donahoe, district chairwoman; Walter R. Bellatti, Carl E. Robinson, Gail E. Bellatti, chairman of the Morgan County Republican Central committee; Sheriff A. E. Williamson and Roy P. Hapke.

Ed Alexander, long active in Morgan county Republican circles, is at his usual station with Speaker Hugh Cross of Jerseyville. Republican candidate for lieutenant governor. Also with Cross is his son, Hugh Edward, who was celebrating his 13th birthday. He asked, "Aunt Ed, if I was going to run for office 'when he grows up,' the lad said 'no sir,' very definitely. Attorney John Gibbons, of Jerseyville, Cross's law partner is also on the train.

The ever enthusiastic Harry Montgomery, sheriff of Scott county, is a passenger on the Willkie Special. He is accompanied by Guy Paul, editor of the Winchester Times. A publisher of a Pike county newspaper, that has always valiantly supported Republican candidates is another passenger. Mrs. Dot Swan. She is accompanied by the county chairman, Carl Hayes, and another Republican stalwart, Fred Kiser. Calhoun county is represented on the train by G. R. Haug, Calhoun county chairman, who resides in the most southernmost tip of the county, but manages to let the Democrats know they have been in a race on any election day. George Wiener, county chairman of Mason county, is also a passenger on the train.

The Springfield delegation includes such well known figures as Senator Earl B. Searcy, Judge Harlington Wood, Judge Ben DeBorde, Will Smith, editor of the Springfield State Journal, Clarence R. Davis, A. W. Shipton, publisher of the Illinois State Journal, Logan Giffen, former state representative, Judge C. H. Jenkins, Eddie Lantz, Springfield labor leader. The Sangamon delegation also includes one World War veteran who served in the same company with Willkie in France, the 325th Field Artillery, 84th division. He is T. F. O'Day of Springfield.

Fr. Newman on Train
There is another veteran on the train to greet the presidential candidate. This veteran is attired in quite a different manner than he was in 1917 and 1918. He is Father Phil J. Newman, formerly of Jacksonville. Father Newman served in the same outfit with Willkie in France, and there was a broad grin on the face of this genial gentleman as he met his former "buddy." Father Newman is now a resident of Quincy.

Being in company with the Republicans on the state ticket, who were elected not SELECTED by a machine, is like being with a group of close friends. There is our "home town candidate" Warren Wright, who says he has been trying to win for ten years. There is Curly Brooks, who has been to Morgan county and other parts of this community so many times he is known almost as well, and Hugh Cross just south of us who is almost in the Morgan county circle. There is a new face in politics this year, Dwight Green, and it has taken him no time to win a place in the hearts of the voters. He just naturally fits in.

There was a cheer from the crowd of townspeople and farm folks as the train passed through Barry, the first station. The crowd lined the sides of the railroad tracks on both sides of the station. In other population centers, there were also crowds waiting to see the train.

Meet Willkie
The highlight of the trip of course was the appearance of the presidential candidate in the two coaches that carried state candidates and others who boarded the train at Hannibal. Just before the train reached Jacksonville Mr. Willkie was announced and smilingly walked down the aisles of the coaches to shake the hands of all those on the train.

The first persons he met were residents of Jacksonville and when informed of their residence Mr. Willkie at once said "That is the former residence of William Jennings Bryan isn't it?" An affirmative answer was given and Mr. Willkie passed on.

He met two former World War buddies, Father Newman and O'Day at the end of the first coach of visitors and a happy reunion ensued. Pleasantries were exchanged and brief reminiscences were gone into. Father Newman remarked, "I served in outposts in France with Willkie." As the former soldiers parted company on the coach Mr. Willkie hurried back to his coach to address the huge throng that had gathered to hear the presidential nominee.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 18.—(P)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker suggested today that graduates of the government's civil pilot training program be given "a plane and a parachute" and told to fly first class mail from every town of 2,000 or more to main trunk routes of major airlines.

This, he told the National Association of State Aviation Officials' convention, would give the fliers needed further training and would "increase operations of major airlines just about 30 times."

Rickenbacker, America's leading World War ace, now an airplane executive, described graduates of primary flight training as "the merest toddlers when their flying skill is stacked up against that needed to operate a 400-mile-an-hour pursuit ship or a four-engined bomber."

New York Stock Market

New York, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The stock market bumped into considerable profit-taking today but managed partially to regain its balance after a forenoon slump.

Losses of fractions to a point or more for steels and other recent industrial favorites were cut or replaced with small gains at the close.

An irregularly lower drift was in evidence at the start when volume preceded. Dealings then slowed until the final hour when the pace again quickened on the recovery attempt.

Transfers were around 600,000 shares.

Dealers purchasing on the rails put several of these behind modest plus signs. Aircrafts experienced a brief upward flurry and farm implements tilted higher on a light turnover. A number of specialties displayed strength.

The morning set-back was attributed by brokers mainly to the customary cashing in on the eve of a week-end following three successive rising sessions. Business news was still helpful and war developments provided nothing startling from a speculative standpoint. Wall street also seemed a bit more cheerful regarding politics.

General Motors and Chrysler were about even the greater part of the day, although this week's automotive production was estimated by Ward's at 114,672 units, a new top for the year to date. It compared with 108,457 in the previous week and 70,114 a year ago.

TOUR FARMS OWNED BY TENANT PURCHASERS

Representatives of the various agencies working for the welfare of farmers in Morgan county made a tour Wednesday of six tenant purchase farms in the county. The principal purpose was the study of construction of improvements the purchasers have made on their farms, and to examine the soil. First payments on the loans which enabled the new owners to acquire their farms are due in January. All report good crops and the outlook is encouraging.

The agency representatives, including men from the CCC, the FSA, the Production Credit and the National Farm Loan offices, the Soil Conservation association and the Farm Bureau, visited farms of Clyde D. Mether, James H. Campbell, Richard Sayre, Lawrence E. Smith, Wallace Bealmear and James T. Casey.

Three years of determined effort by perfume manufacturer produced only 600 ounces of the rare Bermuda passion flower perfume.

STORIES IN STAMPS

Berzelius' Discoveries Began Modern Chemistry
CHEMISTRY has become so important a part of modern life, so integral a part of everyday necessities that it goes practically unnoticed. But the "ersatz" of today's economies, the munitions of 1940's wars, the high-power fuels of bombing planes find a common chemical ancestry in the discoveries of Baron Johann Jakob Berzelius, 19th century chemist pictured on the Swedish stamp above. Berzelius was the "father" of inorganic chemistry. John Dalton had advanced the atomic theory of matter which forms the basis of modern chemistry. Berzelius elaborated that theory, placed it on a firm, quantitative basis. To Berzelius, too, is credited discovery of new elements, selenium, thorium and cerium. Many of the analytical processes he devised are still in use. The chemical symbols, familiar to every student, were originated by him.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

NEW YORK JUNGLE

BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

COPYRIGHT, 1940, BY W. WADE SEVERN, INC.

YESTERDAY, Sidney meets Pat, a young woman and her mother, Mrs. Langdon. Sidney is a young man who has been in the jungle for some time. He is a bit of a mystery to the women. He is a bit of a mystery to the women. He is a bit of a mystery to the women.

A LETTER FROM AFRICA
CHAPTER X
AFTER establishing his headquarters in the 18th century drawing room, Captain Ploverman questioned each member of the house party. Braitwood, as their lawyer, was present throughout.

The captain sent first for Nella Langdon. With a little tremulous sigh, the girl sank into a chair, her thin hands locked in nervous tension.
